

Glebe Place, Chelsea

Price £8,500 pw

Entering a classical London facade you discover modern, state of the art finishes, designs, architecture and art. The light throughout is outstanding and every room is an incredible experience as well as a fantastic living space for a multitude of different buyers.

The house benefits from a unique double height living room leading directly on to the 32ft (9.7m) West facing garden. There is a separate kitchen, dining room, cinema room and study all with their own individual and original style that cannot fail to impress and amaze.

The master bedroom suite is situated on the first floor with the bedroom positioned to the rear with lovely views over the garden. The contemporary design is continued throughout the house and the master bedroom exemplifies this fantastic creativity with petrified moss being used as a wonderful texture and colour dividing the bath and shower. There are a further four bedroom suites.

The house also benefits from a large collection of beautiful works (around 130) by other Georgian artists, including two spectacular pieces commissioned specially for the principal reception room of this house.

The artworks (paintings, sculptures, chandeliers) referred to above may be available for sale by separate negotiation.
